

I am amazed that anyone on the FCC would consider slackening the rules for ownership of newspapers, television stations, etc. to the extent that one individual could actual own and control all of the major media in America. I am opposed to this kind of ruling as it would truly cripple our freedom and monopolize our sources of information sharing and artistice endeavors. Let all voices be heard in all ways in as many formats as possible! This is what makes America great! Thank you.
